

The Missoula Chapter of the Indoor Air Quality Association (iaqa.org) is holding a Continuing Education Seminar/Workshop
Located at Dayspring Restoration's new facility on Trumpeter Way next to Big Sky Brewing Co.

Open to the Public

Continuing Education Workshop: Tuesday November 27, 2007 (morning and/or afternoon sessions available)

1. Credits for continuing education are available
 - a. Most all professional organizations accept IAQA workshops for continuing education credits.
 - b. If you are unsure ask your organization, and we can help you apply for CEU's

Morning IAQ Session: approx. 4-hrs (8:30am-12:30pm)

- 8:30 - 8:45: Sign in and workshop and host introduction: Water Damage: The water damage restoration industry, overview of current and future trends; Mark Hlebichuk, IHESS, Inc.; Mark Springer, Dayspring Restoration
- 8:45 – 9:15: What is the IAQA-AmIAQC-IESO and WHY are their unified Certifications and Standards important to your industry?
 - Indoor Air Quality Association-Membership body
 - American Indoor Air Quality Council-Certifying body
 - Indoor Environmental Standards Organization-Sampling procedures and guidelines for Quality Assurance Mark Hlebichuk, IHESS, Inc.
- 9:15 – 10:00: Montana Meth Cleanup Program: How it works, what to do if your property is involved and listed; and, the processes to de-list; Deb Grimm, CIH; MT Meth Cleanup Program
- 10:00 – 10:15: break and networking
- 10:15 – 11:00: Mold Prevention during the design and building process: Different products and techniques, discussion of pros and cons of those techniques; one featured product MICROBE GUARD, is a company that provides insurance and warranties cleanup for up to 25 years if mold grows on a properly treated surfaces; Mark Hlebichuk, IHESS, Inc.
- 11:00 – 11:10: Break
- 11:10 – 12:10: Ventilation system design concepts for residential and commercial building design and remodel; including whole house ventilation. Russ Hellem, Energetechs, Inc.
- 12:10 – 12:30: Questions

Afternoon Hazmat Session: Approx. 4 hours (12:45pm-4:45pm)

- 12:45-4:45pm; Hazardous Materials and Safety; The afternoon portion will include a Hazardous materials and Emergency Response/Emergency Preparedness- Awareness Level program discussing hazardous materials issues, operations and emergency planning and air quality in construction safety, commercial buildings, residential structures and hospitals.
 - A HAZWOPER Awareness Level Certificate will be issued that complies with JCAHO and OSHA guidelines for those persons attending the afternoon session. Subject to change based upon attendance

Morning session fees:	Afternoon session fees:
Non-IAQA member: $75	Non-IAQA member: $95
IAQA member: $45	IAQA member: $65
Government: $25	Government: $25

- Early Registration: $10 discount if post-marked before October 15 (except government attendees)

- Sign up for both and discount $20 in addition to early registration (except government employees)
- Light refreshments and snacks provided; light lunch for full day and Hazardous Materials Training Class Attendees

Questions: Contact Mark Hlebichuk (lee bi chuck), Director of the Missoula Chapter of the IAQA at mark1@hazmat.net, 800-995-4033, 406-543-4495

Make Checks payable to IHESS, Inc (reference the IAQA workshop) P.O. Box 3104, Missoula, MT 59806; credit cards also accepted

Want to join the IAQA and save on workshop fees call Mark at 543-4495 or go to www.iaqa.org
Cost savings for attending two workshops per year equal approximately 50% of membership costs to the IAQA.

Thank you,
Mark Hlebichuk

*Certified Indoor Environmental Consultant-AmIAQC
Certified Indoor Air Quality Consultant-AmIAQC
Applied Microbial Remediation Supervisor-IICRC
Water Damage Restoration Technician-IICRC
Registered Professional Industrial Hygienist-APIH
Certified Environmental Trainer-NESHTA*